When deprived of the Philippine islands, Japan will lose large tonnage of iron ore, chrome ore and manganese which her steel industry needs, the American Iron and Steel Institute reports. The islands also are rich in other natural resources.

In 1940, Japan obtained 1,310,000 net tons of iron ore from the Philippines, the entire production of iron ore in the islands. In seven months of 1941 iron ore shipments to Japan totaled 954,300 tons.

Presumably since the Japanese occupation in early 1942, tonnages approximating those of 1940 and 1941 have been shipped to Japan, along with manganese ore which prior to the Japanese invasion was shipped almost entirely to the United States. In 1940 shipments of manganese ore from the Philippines into this country were around 50,000 tons.

The commercial mining of chrome ore, which is used in the making of alloy steel, started only about 15 years ago in the Philippines. In 1938 around 74,000 net tons were exported, of which 60,000 tons were shipped to the United States, 8,000 tons to Canada and 2,000 tons to Japan. One of the principal producing areas is the Zamboanga Province of Luzon.

Four companies produced most of the 1940 output of iron ore in the Philippines. They were the Philippine Iron Mines, Inc., in the

News From Men In The Service

Staff Sgt. Bon Cousineau arrived in Escanaba Tuesday from Fort Sheridan and is spending a month's furlough with his sister, Mrs. Sadie Lemirand, and his brother, Gafton Cousineau, 216 Stephenson avenue.

He recently returned to his excellent health after serving for three years in Belgium, Ireland, England, France and Luxembourg.

Among those graduating from an intensive course of Gunnery Mate training at recent Service Schools exercises here was Roy H. Olson, 26, husband of Lorraine V. Olson, R.R. 1 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, Mich.

This Bluejacket was selected for his specialized training on the basis of his recruit training aptitude test scores. Graduates from the twenty specialized courses taught here at the Service Schools are sent to sea, to shore stations, or to advanced schools for further duty.

Leo Joseph Laurendeau, steamfitter second class in the U. S. navy, is now stationed with a ship salvage unit at a naval base in France, according to information received by his wife, who resides at 708 Fourth avenue south. Laurendeau joined the navy two years ago.

Word has been received by Mrs. Lawrence Grenier that her husband, Pvt. Grenier, has arrived safely somewhere in Belgium. The letter, dated January 24, is the first news received since he left after spending a 13-day furlough with his family at their home in Ensign in December. Before going overseas, Pvt. Grenier completed a 17-week infantry training course at Camp Robinson, Ark.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO BUTTER Chicago, Feb. 14 (AP)—The butter market was firm today and unchanged at CIG ceilings.

CHICAGO EGGS Chicago, Feb. 14 (AP)—Eggs were irregular; large No. 1 and extras, 35 to 39¢; medium extras, 33 to 36¢; other prices unchanged.

CHICAGO POTATOES Chicago, Feb. 14 (AP)—Potatoes, arrivals 62, on track 100, total 16,600; new, 15¢; old, 14¢; strictly good beef cows in load lots to 15.25¢; bulk 10.00 to 13.00; cutters 9.00 down; bulls steady to weak; weights sausage, 14.50; heavy fat bulls to 14.50; vealers strong, mostly 15.50 down.

CHICAGO GRAIN Chicago, Feb. 14 (AP)—Grains made a firm start today but the demand soon was satisfied and the gains faded quickly. Minor upturns brought out increased offerings and there was none of the aggressive support which accounted for yesterday's sharp advance.

Wheat prices failed to go far in either direction and held to a range of three-quarters of a cent.

At the finish wheat was 1-8 higher to 1-4 lower than yesterday's close. May $1.62 1-8 to $1.62 1-4. Corn was off 1-4 to 3-8. May $1.12 1-4. Oats were 1-4 higher to 3-8 lower. May 47 to 46 7-8. Rye was off 1-8 to 3-8. May $1.12 7-8 to $1.13. Barley was up 1-4 to 1-4, May $1.00 2-4.

Commission house resting orders and buying by brokers associated with one of the prominent local processors prevented more than minor losses in rye.

Commission houses and pit traders were on both sides of the oats market and prices followed the trend of other grains.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK Chicago, Feb. 14 (AP)—Saleable hogs 9,000, total 15,500; active, fully steady; bulk good and choice barrows and gilts 14 to 14.75, ceiling price; good and choice sows all weight 14.00; clearance complete; shippers took 2,000.

Rink Completed By Nahma Scouts

Nahma—The Boy Scout troop number 421, rendered their first service to the community by building an ice rink over the present site of the tennis courts.

The project was started on Saturday. Children will play on the rink now instead of in the roads. Mothers and fathers are expressing appreciation of their effort.

The Scouts attended mass Sunday in a group at the St. Andrew's Catholic church. The Rev. Father McKevitt officiated. A very impressive sermon was preached by Father McKevitt, pointing out what an organization of its kind does to a boy and to the community he lives in.

The Valentine Carnival which was held at the F. W. Good school on Friday evening was very successful according to report given by the Supt. Leo J. Pintal.

About one hundred dollars were made and the proceeds will be spent on the film projector which has been ordered and expected to be delivered the latter part of March or the first part of April.

The school's magazine subscription drive netted approximately seventeen dollars. The proceeds of the campaign will also be applied on the film projector.

RAILS REGISTER NEW ADVANCES

New York, Feb. 14 (AP)—Investment rated industrials and selected rails scored new advances in the stock market today, although closing prices were under the day's best levels.

The improvement ranged from major fractions to more than a point, and there were a few downward movements.

In breadth and activity dealings exceeded Tuesday's. The Associated Press 50-stock average, while ahead only 2 of a point against yesterday's gain of 3 of a point, at 60.7 was the highest since September 9, 1937.

Leadership was evident in support accorded Union Carbide, up 3 1-8 at 84 1/2; Du Pont, up 1 1/2 at 163; both new highs; and Dow Chemical, up 1 1/2 at 128. Chrysler topped 100 but slipped back to close at 99 1/2, up 1/2 for another new high.

During the day 1,015 issues crossed the tape, compared with 965 Tuesday, the greatest number since May of 1940 when the Nazis were sweeping across France.

Among the 580 issues registering advances were Steel, Youngstown, General Motors, Willis-Overland and U. S. Rubber.

GAINS TRIMMED

New York, Feb. 14 (AP)—A slow advance in rails tipped the scales in favor of generally higher prices in today's bond market.

Gains were less robust than in the preceding session, however, and in numerous cases individual issues shied away from the best prices of the day before their close. Scattered industrials and utilities gave up some ground but investment rated situations continued in favor. Sales of $10,830,000 compared with $10,240,000 on Tuesday.

Holding advances of major fractions to a point or so at the end were, among others, New Haven 4s and 4 1/2s, Norfolk Southern 4 1/2s, Northern Pacific 5s, Pittsburgh & West Va. 4 1/2s, Shenley Southern 4s, Seaboard 4s and 4 1/2s, Southern Railway general 6s, Texas & Pacific first 5s, Walworth 4s, American & Foreign Power 5s, Boston & Maine 5s, St. Paul 3 1/2s, and general 4s and Illinois Central 4s and 4 1/2s.

Delaware & Hudson 4s gave up a fraction and lower prices were taken for General Realty 4s. International Hydro Electric 6s, Lehigh Valley Coal 5s and Katy adjustment 5s. U. S. government bonds showed a little lower following publication of details of a refunding offer for $4,451,111,700 of maturing certificates with new issue 7-8 of one per cent paper. The three maturing issues carried interest of 6.90 per cent, 14 per cent and 3-4 per cent.

Antiquated first second and third 7s and Canada 3s were among foreign issues making progress. The series 6 Brazil 3-4s moved up 11 5-8 points on sale of five bonds.

MRS. CAMPBELL OF RALPH DIES

Highly-Esteemed Woman Was Ill Several Months

Mrs. Hugh Campbell, highly-esteemed resident of the Ralph community, died at St. Francis hospital 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon after an illness of several months duration.

Marie Nugent was born in Belleville, Ont., where she completed a nurse's training course at the Belleville hospital. About fifty years ago, she was married to the late Hugh Campbell, who was then employed by the Mann Brothers Lumber company at Ralph. Later, he was engaged in the store business there.

When Mrs. Campbell came to Ralph, it was a typical frontier lumbering community. There was no church for miles around, and she conducted for a number of years non-denominational religious meetings in the school. Later, she was instrumental in the establishment of the well-known little log church at Ralph, which became a mission of the Episcopal church. Ornaments on the altar were memorial presents from Bishop Harris, who was then head of the Marquette diocese of the Episcopal church.

Mrs. Campbell's hospital training was greatly appreciated in the early days. Lumberjacks were often brought to the headquarters camp from the woods seriously injured by a falling tree or axe cuts. To get to the nearest doctor meant an all-day trip with sleigh or buggy over a rough road to Escanaba, 50 miles away. A considerable number of these men were saved through the emergency aid given by Mrs. Campbell.

Surviving are three children: Archie Campbell of Sitka, Alaska; Mrs. L. F. West of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. Evan Dahlstrom, of Ralph; three grandchildren, Mary Jane and Sharon West of Seattle and Hugh Evan Dahlstrom, of Ralph; and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. A. T. Hoffman, Escanaba; Mrs. Frank MacDougall of Toronto, Canada; A. E. Nugent of Beverly Hills, Calif.; and Mrs. F. M. Cochems, of Denver, Colo.

The body was taken to the Alto funeral home where it will be in state beginning this evening. Services will be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and burial will be made in Lakeview cemetery.

Soldiers May Get Eggs Sunny Side Up

Washington (AP)—Experimental shipments of shell eggs as non-refrigerated cargo to overseas theaters of war have been made recently by the Army to save refrigerated ship space.

If results of these test shipments are favorable, American soldiers in most theaters of war will be getting their eggs sunny side up instead of scrambled, the only way dehydrated eggs can be served.

Pearson Made Accurate Forecasts On Meeting

(Editor's Note: In view of Drew Pearson's unique coverage of the Big Three Conference in advance, and from a distance of 7,000 miles we are sending you the following resume of what he reported the Big Three would do, compared with what the Big Three did.)

Washington—Readers of Drew Pearson's column got an amazing insight of what Roosevelt, Stalin, and Churchill would do at their Black Sea conference well in advance of the meeting. A comparison of the Big Three communique with Pearson's column of February 3, and 9, shows that he anticipated most of the important points agreed upon.

Here is a comparison of what Pearson reported in advance and what the Big Three leaders announced:

1. The Big Three agreed that they will each occupy a separate zone of Germany. This was reported in detail by Pearson in his column of October 6, 1944.

2. All war criminals will be brought to just and swift punishment. Pearson listed this as point 4 in the Agenda in his column of February 9.

3. The provisional government of Poland in Russia (Lublin government) will be recognized by the United States and Great Britain "with inclusion of Democratic leaders from Poland itself and from Poles abroad." On February 9, Pearson reported, "Roosevelt is proposing a compromise whereby Premier Mikolajczyk will enter the Russian-inspired Lublin government of Poland. The United States and Britain would then recognize the Lublin government."

4. The Big Three re-adjusted the Polish boundaries "with disgressions from the Curzon line in some regions of five to eight kilometers in favor of Poland." On February 9, Pearson reported, "Roosevelt is also proposing that Russia withdraw some of its claims to Old Poland as a conciliatory gesture to the Poles."

5. The Big Three decided on meetings of their foreign secretaries "about every three or four months." On February 3, Pearson reported that the Big Three would have their foreign ministers meet "approximately every three months."

6. Regarding Dumbarton Oaks, the Big Three reported that "on the important question of voting procedure, agreement was not reached (in Washington.) The present conference has been able to resolve this difficulty." Pearson had reported on Feb. 9 that the question of the Dumbarton Oaks voting procedure would be the most difficult problem Roosevelt faced at the Big Three conference. He predicted that "Roosevelt may have to return from the big three talks forced to accept Stalin's veto or who shall be an aggressor." It is significant that the Big Three communique did not specify what the voting procedure was that has been worked out by them, and is strongly suspected that Stalin's view of the matter, namely, the right of veto by him prevailed.

7. The Big Three went into considerable detail regarding plans to create Democratic institutions in the liberated countries

"Aviation, to use an Irishism, is still in the air," he asserts. "We won't know whether we are going to pull the airplane in the future or push it, or whether it will fly tail first or be all wing or all fuselage. The introduction of the jet has changed everything in flying."

They Will Guard America

IT IS AN impressive list of American statesmen, named by President Roosevelt to represent this nation at the forthcoming United Nations conference, to be held in San Francisco in April to draft a plan for enforcing world peace, at the conclusion of the present war.

The outstanding figure of the delegation will, of course, be former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, recognized as the outstanding statesman in this nation today as well as one of the best informed men in the world on international affairs. Second only to Mr. Hull in the delegation will be United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, recognized in the nation as one of the great statesmen now in the membership of the United States Senate. It has been the fearless, non-partisan leadership assumed by Senator Vandenberg, in demanding that this nation assume its full share of responsibility for establishing and preserving world peace, more than any other force, that has prepared the people of America for future participation in world affairs in a greater degree than ever before since this government was established.

The San Francisco conference, is a definite part of the plan evolved by representatives of the three chief Allied governments at the recent Black Sea meeting, to set up an organization that is entirely new in the history of the world.

America's delegates to that conference will blaze a new trail in world history and President Roosevelt must be given credit for this most important duty some of the best minds of America.

Bigger Job Ahead

OBSERVANCE of the fortieth anniversary of the Forest Service should remind us of reasons for the establishment of this important branch of the department of agriculture.

The destruction caused to our natural resources by wasteful lumbering methods was noted by conservationists back in the early eighties, but it was not until 1891 did the country have anything like a national forest policy. The division of forestry, created in 1890 under the department of agriculture, was made the Bureau of Forestry in 1901, and was reorganized as the Forest Service in 1905 with greatly increased powers.

First federal forester was Gifford Pinchot, noted pioneer conservationist, who served in that capacity until 1910, to be followed by other well known forestry leaders—Henry S. Graves, William B. Greeley, Robert Y. Stuart, Ferdinand A. Silcox, Earle H. Clapp and the present chief, Lyle F. Watts.

During the past forty years, more than 150,000,000 acres of cutover and timbered lands have been brought under the administration of the Forest Service in over 160 national forests. Millions of trees have been planted, many more have been saved by fire prevention, and many acres put to productive use by the Forest Service. In addition, the Forest Service has functioned as an educational institution, conducting research to develop new uses for wood and to encourage scientific forestry in the privately owned forests of the country.

During the depression era, the Forest Service played an important role in supervising the work projects of the Civilian Conservation Corps, which furnished employment to thousands of idle youth and at the same time restored many idle acres of land to productivity. In the present war emergency, the Forest Service is lending its assistance in the laboratory and out in the field to create new weapons of wood and to accelerate the production of much needed lumber, pulpwood, boxes, crates and other military goods.

A bigger job lies ahead. Heavy wartime demands for forest products are cutting deeply into the nation's timber supply, for the rate of cutting is now far exceeding the rate of growth. After the war, there will be a greater need than ever before for tree planting and other conservation work, for the nation's woodpile must be safeguarded to serve our civilian and military needs in the future centuries.

Should Be Interesting

THE Citizens Forum will resume its 1945 season for the discussion of vital community problems with a program devoted to the local and national aspects of the central or district heating industry.

Discussion will be led by Robert L. Fitzgerald, general manager of the Duluth Steam corporation, a privately owned heating utility, who will review the progress of central heating on a national scale, while Acting City Manager A. V. Aronson will discuss the plans for the municipally-owned utility here.

The visiting speaker, Mr. Fitzgerald, has been associated with gas, electric, water, transport and heating utilities the past 32 years, and is regarded as one of the leading authorities in the district heating field.

Much conflicting information about central heating utilities has been presented in the past few years. The forum on Tuesday evening offers an opportunity for a thorough discussion of the subject by citizens of this community. It will be a good thing.

Fisheries Hearing

REP. FRED BRADLEY and other members of the house merchant marine and fisheries committee will be at Glancey Park on Monday to conduct a hearing for the benefit of commercial fishermen of the upper Great Lakes region.

Officials of the Michigan and Wisconsin conservation departments, as well as the commercial fishermen, are being invited to attend the hearing to present their problems. Some of the questions that may be discussed are the manpower shortage, international fishing relations with Canadian fishermen, uniform regulations and related problems. Much good can come out of hearings of this type.

The Great Lakes commercial fishing industry has played no small part in aiding the wartime food program. Although handicapped by a shortage of manpower and equipment, the fishermen have continued their operations, and many of them have ambitious plans for expansion after the war is over. Most significant development in late years has been the creation of consumer markets for suckers, carp, smelt, herring and other less popular fish. New processing and marketing techniques will be utilized by the Great Lakes industry to promote an increased public demand for its products.

Commercial fishing is an industry of considerable importance to many communities along the shores of the Great Lakes.

More Fats Needed

HOW important it is for the housewife to salvage fats is brought home with the War Food Administration's announcement that it has reduced the amount manufacturers may use in making civilian soap.

Fats are used in the manufacture of explosives and for other military purposes. Much is also used in the making of soap, which is being shipped in large quantities to the armed forces of the globe.

There still will be enough soap for laundries if a panicky public does not start a buying run that will make OPA rationing necessary until the situation is remedied. The housewife, however, can help to assure herself of an adequate supply of soap to keep little Johnny's neck and ears clean by collecting more waste fats.

BUILD PEACE ON CHRISTIAN SPIRIT (Grand Rapids Press)

Slowly the world is learning that there can be no peace without good will. The last generation learned it at terrific cost but failed to put the lesson into practice. We are learning it at an even greater price and this time we must not fail to apply it. The Christmas message reminds us that the place to start is in our own hearts.

Few care to see a show twice, says a movie official. And often not even once, we find out too late.

To my grocer: My love for you I cannot utter when you produce a pound of butter.

These three Japanese terms have entered English in recent years, but they do not yet appear in the dictionaries.

ISSEI, literally, means "first generation." The term designates Japanese born in Japan, but now living in the United States. Say: EE-say.

NISEI, "second generation," designates American-born children of Japanese-born parents. Say: NEE-say.

KIBEL, American-born Japanese who have returned to Japan to live or to study. Say: KEE-bay.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Paris—A nation that has suffered a severe defeat suffers also from hurt pride, and that is true of proud France today.

General Charles De Gaulle was not invited to the Black Sea conference of the Big Three even as a junior partner. Not only was he not invited, but the French government was not informed that the conference was to take place.

Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's closest adviser, stopped here on his way to the conference. He saw De Gaulle and one or two other members of the government. The conversations were restricted for the most part to polite generalities. All that the De Gaulle government knows about the conference is what the newspapers have carried speculating on its agenda and the position of the three powers on important issues.

What had been hoped for up until the last minute was an invitation to the head of the French government to come in on the final phases of the conference. Naturally, De Gaulle would not have been asked to participate in the first part of the conference, which seems to have been confined to decisions on the "final phase" of the war in Europe. That was understood here.

—DE GAULLE IS PROUD—

But the affront to pride has come out of the fact that the representative of France was not invited to participate in discussions of present or future political and economic problems vital above all to 50 million Frenchmen who must live next door to the Germans. It is more than pride. It goes back to the gnawing insecurity that was the mood of the years between the two wars.

When it became quite clear that he was not to have an invitation to the Big Three meeting, De Gaulle made his speech of a week ago. It was an angry speech, almost a defiant speech. De Gaulle is a proud man. It was not merely his personal pride, however, that had been affronted, but the pride of the French people.

As a Frenchman he knew that, and he knew he could go a long way in asserting the French position. He made it perfectly plain that France would not be bound by any decisions taken by the Big Three unless those decisions guaranteed the security of France in accord with the terms laid down by De Gaulle in his speech.

His first requisite was the definite separation of the Rhineland and the Ruhr from Germany. But he went much further, and in a calculated appeal to the European peoples he called for the independence of Poland, Austria, Czechoslovakia and the Balkan nations.

Now how does it happen that a stricken nation—and there can be no doubt that France is stricken—dares to speak out so boldly through its leader?

—FRANCE MUST PARTICIPATE—

The obvious answer is that the weight of events is on the side of the French and that sooner or later the rest of the world, including three important gentlemen meeting on the shores of the Black Sea, must recognize that fact. No peace can be made in Europe without the participation of France—and De Gaulle knows it.

The situation has been somewhat improved by the announcement in Washington of a Franco-American lend-lease accord. The French government had sent Jean Monnet to Washington as head of an economic mission with a set of minimum requests necessary to get French economy started again. One of his compelling arguments was that France would produce for the war if only a minimum of raw materials could be provided.

Several times Monnet was on the point of returning to Paris, his mission a failure. But at the end of the week he issued a statement in Washington saying that he was returning to France with lend-lease proposals worked out in a "spirit of cooperation" with the U. S. government. According to reports here, these proposals include a billion dollars worth of civilian goods and, above all, desperately needed transportation equipment.

While this is naturally welcome news, it is received here with certain reservations. The French know that translation of the paper agreement into reality depends on shipping. They know, too, that control of shipping has come largely under military leaders who are extremely reluctant to allow any space at all for civilian goods in liberated areas. Wait and see, say the skeptical French.

One thing that hurts sensitive feelings here is that Italy, which was an enemy country, has received considerably more help than France. Moreover, the French have heard promises in the past that have not been fulfilled.

The French people tell you that the Allied propaganda urging underground resistance to the Nazis prior to the invasion leaned heavily on promises of a better life after their liberation. And now, they say, "look at us; we're worse off than before."

So while the French, like the rest of the world, are awaiting the outcome of the Big Three meeting, the attitude here is aloof, almost disdainful. The French are trying to stand up against hunger, cold and misery in the belief that time is on their side.

Pope Pius X. Why a boner? In the language of the Catholic Church, Catholic readers, and most well-informed non-Catholics, "beautification" is the ceremony of raising to sainthood. May I suggest you retract on that one?

Answer: Sorry, St. J., but Pope Pius X wasn't made "beautiful." He was beatified, "having attained the second degree of sanctification." The article should have referred to the "beatification" of Pope Pius X. The word is pronounced: bee-AT-i-fi-KAY-shun.

SHE CHECKED UP—One Escanaba woman whose bump of curiosity includes an itch to know how old folks are, checked up on the age of Strickland Gilliland, nationally-known humorist who appeared recently on Town Hall program.

Dunathan

His age—which will be revealed later. However, one sharp-eyed Escanaban noticed that as the speaker made his way from the wings to the stage center he was just a trifle unsteady on his pins. Getting back to the search for Mr. Gilliland's age, it was not revealed in "Who's Who in America," although the author, humorist and lecturer is given plenty of space otherwise.

But the Escanaba woman with the bump of curiosity thought perhaps she might find an inkling in "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations." There sure enough was Mr. Gilliland, represented by a quotation from his famous "Finaglin" poem, and one other. And the birth date of the author also was there—revealing Mr. Gilliland to be 75 years of age.

DEAR BUGLER: Just got the Press from the neighbors. It was wrapped around some fish. I was glad to get the paper until I read that snow column of yers. Then I got rarin' mad. Then I sez to myself thet you must be needin' that spring tonic of sulphur and molasses again. Folks that gripe usually has something that isn't perkin' right in their innards.

Schucks Bugler, I remember back in the eighties when we had real snow. Storm followed storm that winter. The tail of one storm was firmly clamped in the teeth of the next oncoming blizzard. Folks had a hard time that winter. I remember the well digger in particular. Tom had a well to dig out here at Ford River. He set his drill up on the first of November. The snow had four days started—but Tom was game. Day after day he drilled, while folks listened to the slam-bang-slam of the drilling. Now the snow kept falling and the days kept passing. December wore away and January changed into February.

Folks got to bettin when the well digger would make the strike. Schools left out in June but Tom's outfit kept a hammerin' away. Then on the fourth of July the mill whistles let loose ten blasts and folks came a runnin'.

Tom had finally struck—the ground! That was snow to write on.

25 Years Ago—1920

Into an American field hospital at Baccarat, France, one afternoon in the early summer of 1918, there came a French girl. She carried an arm load of flowers for the wounded American soldiers who occupied the lines of cots. Her name was Marie Thomas. At the hospital a Delta county soldier, Adolph Gardiner, was stationed. Their friendship grew. Finally, in August, 1918, they were married.

In November the German army laid down its arms and the Americans began to prepare for their home coming, but it was not until April, 1919, that Gardiner was ordered home. It was arranged that he should return with his outfit and that the wife should come later. Baby Marie Gardiner arrived about the middle of July. Then it was decided that mother and daughter would wait until the American came for them.

NEVER ATE IT — Monday was the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln, and as a part of the observance of that day there was a story out of Washington that described how President Lincoln once almost ate a "fine Mackinac trout" caught in Lake Huron.

The trout was shipped to the president by one of his constituents—"Uncle Harvey Williams," a Lake Huron fisherman. It was on overlake fish and was boxed in ice, much as fish are shipped today by commercial fishermen.

A letter from the executive mansion dated February 3, 1865, to the then representative of the Saginaw Valley congressional district, acknowledged receipts of the fish.

"I have received at your hands a very fine specimen of the Mackinac salmon trout and I beg that you will convey to Mr. Williams my cordial thanks for his kind thoughtfulness, and accept my acknowledgments for your courtesy in the transmission of his present," Lincoln wrote.

A newspaper clipping of that week reveals that Lincoln, following acceptance of the fish, "went to Hampton Roads to meet the peace commissioners, and during his absence, Secretaries Seward and Stanton, with a few others, had discovered the fish and between them all, its bones were picked clean."

And so President Lincoln missed an opportunity to taste one of the delicacies of the Lakes region. But the valiant "Uncle Harvey Williams" assured his congressman that he "could procure another fish and one, if possible, that would be as large."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Real reason why the work-or-fight bill will probably not pass except in a highly diluted form is some backstage personal by-play and inter-cabinet throat-cutting.

When the work-or-fight bill was passed by the House and got to the Senate military affairs committee, a meeting of inter-cabinet representatives was held in the office of General Lucius Clay, assistant to War Mobilizer Byrnes.

Pearson

And it was agreed that all members attending the meeting should write letters to the Senate military affairs committee, recommending that the work-or-fight bill be amended, giving Justice Byrnes the power of administration. This meant that Byrnes would put things in the hands of Paul McNutt's war manpower commission, rather than under General Lewis Hershey's selective service as originally specified in the House bill.

It was also agreed that each member at the meeting would show other members a carbon copy of the letter he wrote, in order that there might be no crossed wires. However, Under-Secretary of War Bob Patterson wrote a milk-and-water letter, and not to be a very vigorous endorsement of the sentiments adopted at the meeting in favor of the Byrnes amendment.

—McNUTT VERSES PATTERSON—

Whereupon War Manpower Commissioner McNutt called Patterson and told him that if he didn't write a stronger letter he, McNutt, would tell the Senate committee what he really thought about the whole legislation. In his heart, McNutt has consistently opposed any labor draft, believing the whole manpower problem was better solved on a voluntary basis.

Following McNutt's threat, Under-Secretary Patterson apparently got worried about the administration of the work-or-fight bill under McNutt's WMC. Presumably he and his army advisers also felt that they could control General Hershey and his draft boards more easily than McNutt. At any rate, Patterson sent General Wilton B. Persons up to interview members of the Senate military affairs committee, including Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota, to tell them that actually the war department did not favor the Byrnes amendment and would favor administration of the work-or-fight bill under General Hershey and the selective service draft boards.

This reversal of policy was what blew up the meeting and eventually torpedoed the whole work-or-fight bill.

Several Senators, including Chairman Thomas, blew off steam regarding the Army's reversal policy. None the least of these was Senator Ed Johnson of Colorado, governor of that state when Paul McNutt was governor of Indiana. Both are close friends and past leaders of the American Legion. So Johnson, leaving the Senate military affairs committee, walked over to his office and blasted a strong statement to the press, blasting the army for double-crossing.

—CAPITOL CHAFF—

Most of the sessionists who were on trial here last year will go completely free, with new cases being brought only against some of the more important.

Credit for reestablishing contact between the Baptist World Alliance and the small body of Forest Baptists goes to Representative Brooks Hays of Arkansas, who undertook the assignment last year during his European trip.

Those who remembered the Coolidge era social battle between Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth widow of the former speaker of the house, and Mrs. Dolly Gann, half-sister of Vice-President Curtis, were amused by the seating arrangements at the Lincoln day dinner last week. Mrs. Gann was at the speakers' table, while Mrs. Longworth was on the floor with the common people.

But Mrs. Longworth drew more attention as she made side-remarks about the speakers while they were speaking, especially poking fun at House Minority Leader Joe Martin's Irish brogue.

The gathering showed the effects of the war table. Of 38 workers deferred by the war manpower commission to the Kelly-Springfield Tire plant, in Cumberland, Md., in one day recently, 33 were turned down for hernias. Most of them are now working on railroad or other industrial jobs.

—NEW MANPOWER PROGRAM—

War Manpower Commission Director Paul McNutt may put a new program into effect very soon in all light labor areas. This would limit employers in non-essential or less essential industries to a certain percentage of the number of workers they employed last year. This ceiling-employee program has already been tried out in Chicago and proven successful.

Chicago employers in non-essential and less essential industries will be required to cut the number of employees on the payroll 10 per cent by March 15.

There's no economy in saving on one thing so you can buy another—unless it's a War Bond!

Statistics show heavy sales of second-hand cars—those things you purchase in haste and repair at leisure.

Another thing to be blamed on the hard winter will be the highways that will make it too easy for people to get into a rut.

Clerical Workers Needed In Capital, Good Wages Paid

"Every American is proud of the way the U. S. navy takes care of its enlisted men and officers, but I wonder how many persons in Escanaba know about the special services the navy offers its civilian workers who are needed in Washington, D. C.?" This was the leading question asked by Miss Carolyn Cheney and Mrs. Ruth Hogland when interviewed in their temporary office at 1323 Ludington street.

Civilians who plan to work as stenographers, typists and clerks at navy headquarters in Washington, D. C., are offered many inducements. Many capable persons are eager to work for their government during this critical war-time period, but wild stories of the housing shortage and high prices in Washington have kept them at home. Washington is not more crowded than any other large city at the present time, according to Miss Cheney. To reassure new employees coming to the nation's capital that there is room for them, the navy guarantees its workers an attractive, comfortable room at a moderate cost. As for the high prices on food, that theory has gone up in smoke long ago, for navy employees may eat breakfast, luncheon and dinner in one of the non-profit navy cafeterias for as little as $1.25 a day.

After a sense of patriotism and loyalty, salaries are an important item in taking a war job. Navy stenographers, typists, and clerks with no experience receive $146 a month, and typists and stenographers with at least one year's responsible office work in their background receive $164 monthly.

And while we're on the subject of money, Miss Cheney continued, the navy pays your train fare to Washington, and also pays for meals enroute. When a new employee finally arrives at Union station in Washington, a navy representative is on hand to roll out the welcome mat. It's a difficult and lonely time when you first come into a strange city, but with friendly navy representatives on deck, a new girl just can't lose track of her luggage or become confused.

Leaving home to take a navy job in the capital doesn't mean you won't get back to the family again until Hitler and Tojo are no more, for as a civil service worker with the navy department, you are allowed twenty-six days annual leave. Up to two weeks of this leave can be taken at one time, which is sufficient to spend your vacation and have a few days left over for a jaunt to New York, Annapolis, or some historic eastern spot at another time. In case of illness, sick leave amounting to a total of fifteen days annually is allowed each employee.

Miss Cheney and Mrs. Ruth Hogland will be at the U. S. Employment Service, 1323 Ludington street, until Feb. 20, and will be glad to talk with any interested persons. Women 17½ years of age and over who are not employed in an essential industry, and who can pass a civil service test and a general physical examination are eligible for a navy job.

SET RED CROSS DRIVE QUOTA

1945 War Fund Canvass
To Raise $37,900
Opens March 1

Quotas for the 1945 Red Cross War Fund in Escanaba, Gladstone, and for each of the 14 townships in Delta county were established at a recent meeting of the Red Cross quota committee. The drive for contributions in residential sections is scheduled to state March 1.

The total Delta county Red Cross quota is $37,900. The goal for the nation is 200 million dollars. The quota for the county has been assigned to the cities and townships as follows:
City of Escanaba—$19,900.
City of Gladstone—$6,800.

Total for townships—$11,200. In Escanaba the city quota has been broken down into residential, business and individual quotas as part of the plan which it is felt will make it possible to meet the quotas successfully in the coming drive.

Escanaba's residential section quota is $6,500, and its quota for business and individual contributions at $13,400.

Contributions this year are expected to increase from all sources, and many persons have notified Red Cross workers that their contributions will be double what they gave last year, the quota committee reported to L. J. Jacobs, Delta County Chapter president.

The quota this year is the largest the county has been asked to raise, and because the county has oversubscribed each of the War Fund quotas of the past the Red Cross workers are confident the drive will be successful this year. More than 600 persons in the cities and townships will take part in the solicitation campaign.

Bridge Session Well Attended, Benefit Planned

BY L. W. OLSON

A ten-table Howell section of duplicate contract bridge was held at the meeting of the Delta Bridge League at its weekly session at the Elks club room last Saturday night. Play started at promptly 8:15 and the evening was an enjoyable one. Twenty-seven boards were played and many of them proved very interesting. The new quarters of the league met with the approval of many of our old and valued members. It is sincerely hoped that they will be with us the balance of the duplicate season.

Pairs, who scored fifty per cent or over at Saturday's meeting, were as follows:

1. B. M. Howe and E. J. Kremer, 64.35.
2. Mr. and Mrs. J. Richards, 58.53.
3. Mr. and Mrs. D. Coon, 55.94.
4. Mrs. B. M. Howe and J. L. Temby, 55.55.
5. Mrs. E. J. Byrns and Mrs. H. Reynolds, 54.36.
6. Mrs. W. C. Jensen and Mrs. C. E. Johnson, 52.08.
7. Mr. and Mrs. H. Needham, 52.05.
8. Mrs. W. O. LaFond and Mrs. T. C. Shanahan, 51.86.
9. Mrs. W. W. Oliver and Mrs. A. E. Ellsworth, 51.29.
- 10-11. Mrs. R. L. Parsons and Mrs. L. W. Olson, 51.03.
- 10-11. C. Buckbee and W. C. Jensen, 51.03.
12. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murdoch, 50.86.
13. Mrs. A. Kraus and Mrs. W. Shepeck, 50.36.
14. Mrs. H. Valentine and P. Dube, 50.00.

The Delta Bridge League will on March 24 sponsor a bridge game for the benefit of the American Red Cross. All proceeds will go directly to the Red Cross. All prizes and the lunch will be donated by the Escanaba Daily Press and the promotion and work will be done by the members of the Delta Bridge League.

To make this benefit a success we must have the cooperation of all bridge players in the county. Both rubber and duplicate will be played that night and we hope to have a minimum of one hundred tables playing that night. The starting time and place will be announced at a later date. In the meantime let us all arrange a table or two and plan to attend.

This is aimed mostly at all the small private bridge clubs of one and two tables that are meeting regularly throughout the county. Arrange to hold your meeting with us the night of March 24. For those who wish to play rubber bridge you can come with your table or two and play with them throughout the evening. For the players who would like to try duplicate but who as yet have not, this is your chance to learn the game. At each table we will have one member of the Bridge League to help with the scoring and give any pointers needed. Arrange now to attend this Red Cross benefit.

Reviews Exhibit
Of Artists' Work

By Margaret Kranstover

Infinite variety of subject matter and individual expression characterized the work of local artists in their annual exhibition held on Tuesday in the Shagman hotel.

Particularly interesting was the work of artists enrolled in the adult education classes. In this group of life sketches, still-life groupings and sketches of the imagination and memory, one is impressed with the freedom of expression—with the individuality of each piece. Yet a certain boldness and simplicity of form is typical of nearly all studies.

Though more oil paintings were included in this year's show than last, watercolors still predominated. These revealed in subject matter, the artists' love for simple everyday scenes—wooded landscapes, lake views, snow-covered rooftops and ice-covered ponds. Katherine Smith's "Snow in the Country," a simple composition of a snowy road and sheds, has a vibrancy and mood brought about through skillful handling of the medium and through contrasting cold grey-blues and brilliant whites.

Other excellent watercolors are Mrs. Cassidy's "Winter" and "Ford River Swamp" in which the artist has succeeded, with limited palette, in creating spontaneous, sparkling paintings. A boldness of technique and a sensitive use of color—earthy reds and browns and greyed blues—characterized Mrs. Cassidy's work.

"The Old Oak Trunk," a watercolor by Alice Powers, is unusual. In this small composition, the rugged solid form of a tree trunk, partly covered with snow, is silhouetted against the flat pattern of a building. This ability to "design" in terms of repeated pattern is brought out again in her large watercolor "Snow Scene." In this painting emphasis is placed on the repeated forms of snow-covered rooftops.

Totally different in subject matter as well as in technique is the painting, "Somewhere in the South Pacific," Mr. Desotelle has carried out his interpretation of this South Pacific scene in flat opaque watercolor. A rough textured effect is obtained through his use of dry-brush.

Church Events

Christian Science Churches
"Soul" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Feb. 18.

The Golden Text (Psalms 62:1) is: Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 13:8, 10): "Owe no man anything, but to love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (205): "When we realize that there is one Mind, the divine law of loving our neighbor as ourselves is unfolded; whereas a belief in many ruling minds hinders man's normal drift towards the one Mind, one God, and leads human thought into opposite channels where selfishness reigns."

Ernie Thanks Reviewers, His Book Is Best Seller

Editor's Note: Ernie Pyle is with the Navy in the Pacific. Pending receipt of his dispatches from that theater we are publishing a few articles he wrote before his take-off from San Francisco, of which the following is one.

BY ERNIE PYLE

San Francisco—I think it permissible to mention in this column the two big things that have grown out of the column, since so many people ask me about them. They are the book "Brave Men" and the movie, "Story of G. I. Joe."

First for the book. It was almost impossible for you to buy one in late December and early January. That was because of paper rationing. The publishers, Henry Holt & Company simply couldn't beg borrow or steal enough paper.

Holt's finally succeeded in printing 239,000 in 1944, and they were all sold before they were printed. In addition, the Book-of-the-Month Club printed 410,000, which I understand is their biggest first month's sale in history. (No harm in a little bragging, is there?)

On New Year's day the 1945 paper quota opened, and Holt's began a new printing of a quarter of a million. They go out to bookstores over the country in monthly dribbles of about 75,000, so you should be able to buy the book by the time this is printed. Provided, of course, that you still want it, and if you don't I'll send my hatchet man around to chop your head off.

Holt's say the book will pass a million by late spring. The previous book "Here Is Your War" is past a million and a quarter. Don't you wish you were a great big wonderful author like me?

I finally got around to reading "Brave Men" myself—something which I've not yet succeeded in doing to "Here Is Your War." I read it for the purpose of making typographical corrections, and bringing little incidents about the men in it up to date, for later printings.

And when I finished, I counted up and found that 15 of my friends in it had been killed just since I came back to America. That many I know of, because their families have written me. Doubtless there are many more that I haven't heard about.

While we're writing about the book, I want to use this device to thank all the reviewers who were so kind. I had intended writing each one of them a letter, but hell there are lots of things you intend to do.

There aren't many experiences more pleasant than reading nice things about yourself. And the book reviewers were certainly gentle with me.

Old wartime acquaintances, such as Cy Sulzberger and Ira

C OF C ISSUES ANNUAL REPORT

Lists Many Worthwhile Accomplishments For Area

Characterizing the activities of the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce in the past year as "busy" and "worthwhile," the annual report of the organization lists many accomplishments and much promotional effort during the past twelve months.

Among the projects started and in the making listed in the report are:

The securing of the services of H. M. Ballard, of the firm of Business Research Corporation, Chicago, Ill., whose visit here did much to enlighten the Chamber on the prospects of development of the tourist and manufacturing industries. The services of his firm, however, were not hired.

Employment of Mrs. Dorothy Shipmen to gather data and prepare articles for a booklet presenting the advantages of the area. Her report has now been received.

Special effort was made to make possible the reopening of Ossa hotel. The report states that the prospects of reopening are bright.

In May, members of the Chamber met with representatives of the American Legion and as a result have made possible the opening of a new industry in the city under the direction of J. F. Kluit, of Detroit.

A third industry in which the Chamber took an active promotional interest, is the Akimetic Industries, Inc., of Belleville which is planning to locate in Manistique on land already leased.

In addition to these industrial projects, the Chamber of Commerce was called upon to aid in negotiating a stabilization of the level of Indian Lake. It also prepared and erected a direction sign on old U. S. 2, advertising the Big Spring, and actively furthered resort business by advertising in the Lure Book of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau. It will be of interest to members of the Chamber of Commerce, that money already spent by the Chamber on advertising the recreational possibilities of the area, is partly paid to the Chamber, in cash, by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau from funds appropriated by the State Legislature. Thus, a full page advertisement in the Lure Book costs the Chamber of Commerce $100.00, but $71.75 of this sum was repaid the Chamber of Commerce from the Recreational Development fund thus appropriated. The Chamber also had printed 2,500 folders, advertising the resorts and recreational advantages of the vicinity, and these were widely distributed. More money and more time was spent on recreational and resort development and tourist advertising than on any other single endeavor.

As a result of the success of the out of door public sings, of last summer, held on the Court House grounds, the Lions Club proposed that the community might investigate the feasibility of a Bandshell, to be located on Maple Avenue, just north of the High School Stadium. To that end, the proposition was presented to the Chamber of Commerce, and the Board of Directors, after full discussion, called a meeting of representatives of a number of the more active civic organizations of the community, such as the Woman's Club, Rotary Club, Lions Club, Planning Commission, etc. At this meeting representatives of the Board presented the matter in full detail, and it is planned to hold further meetings at a later date. At the present, the matter is before the Planning Commission for action.

BRAVES MEET GWINN FRIDAY

Gladstone Team Spruces For Final Home Tilt Of The Season

Gladstone, Mich.—The last opportunity to see the Braves in action on the home floor this season will be accorded local fans Friday evening when Gwinn comes to Gladstone for their annual tilt.

Gwinn this season is reputed to have a powerhouse but the Braves are hopeful of breaking their long string of victories and in so doing getting back in the win column.

Harris will oppose the Gladstone reserves in a preliminary which is scheduled to get underway about 7:15 o'clock.

Whether Engstrom, one of the regular guards, will be back in action Friday night is still a question. Suffering from a "strep" throat Engstrom was unable to play against Escanaba Tuesday night.

Howard, only 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan, South 19th St., joined the ice troupe last summer and has toured from coast to coast with the show, which he unhesitatingly endorses as the finest ice show on the road.

"Of course, I haven't seen them all," he added, meekly, "but the people in the show business say the Ice Capades, with such grand stars as Donna Atwood and Jimmy Lawrence and Eric Waite and a cast of 152 people, is tops."

The Escanaba figure skater, who earned his contract with the Ice Capades following a tryout last winter in Chicago, will rejoin the troupe next week in St. Paul, Minn. They will play in Chicago for a week following the St. Paul engagement.

Howard is an understudy to Eric Waite, noted comedian, but also has a "pinch-hit" for numerous other males in the cast. He gained his greatest thrill by taking over

Ice Capades Is Swell, Lauds Howard Sullivan

"The Ice-Capades is swell and the entire cast has been grand," Howard Sullivan, Escanaba lad who is with the famed ice troupe, said yesterday following his arrival here from Washington, D. C. where he left the show to come back home to appear in the annual Escanaba ice revue, which opens tonight at the fairgrounds.

Howard arrived in Escanaba on the streamliner after 10 p. m. Tuesday night. Did he go home to rest after a long train ride? Certainly not. He went to the rink at the fairgrounds, where he skated until the wee hours of the morning. Glad to be back home, thank you.

Braves President Retires To Direct League Ball Farm

BY FRANK A. HART

Boston, Feb. 14 (P)—Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Braves, announced tonight on his 75th birthday that he would retire from that post to devote his time to development of an extensive farm system for the National League baseball club.

His son, John, secretary of the Braves, will succeed him as general manager, a position the father has filled while serving as president.

Bob Quinn told newsmen at a birthday party in his honor that he believed one of the owners—Joseph Maney, Guido Rugo and Louis Perini—should be named president.

He indicated that the reorganization was more or less in preparation for the postwar period.

He predicted that baseball would be faster than ever after the war and expressed the hope that he would live to see the Braves develop a world champion club.

He based his speed forecast on the assumption that many big leaguers called to the colors would come back as good if not better than when they went away, and that a lot of clever youngsters—some in the service—would have developed meanwhile.

As for his own world championship hopes, Bob said "I think we have a fairly good ball club now. If we can get some of the top notches in the service we'll have a team that will make them all go."

What about baseball this year? "I think we're going to do this year," the veteran of 55 years in the national game responded. "I think we're going to be permitted to play through the season and we're going to have enough players even if the armed forces take more from us."

What kind of man should the new baseball commissioner be? "He should be a man of great courage, principle and honesty. He should have been a professional ball player, but he should at least have some amateur baseball. Furthermore, he should be able to interpret the rules."

As to why he thought baseball would come back stronger than ever after the war, he said: "A lot of youngsters who didn't know much about the game have been developed in the armed services. I have hundreds of letters from kids who want to learn more. Baseball has done much that people—except those in the service—don't know about."

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Eskymos served notice Tuesday night that they have no intention of yielding their Class B peninsula championship without a die-hard defense of the crown. They are showing steady improvement in their play and if this improvement continues, the Eskymos may reach the tournaments in rare form. The Escanaba team meets three of their district foes in their last three games on their schedule—Menominee, Manistique and Kingsford—which will provide a better appraisal of what to expect in the district tournament.

Coach Keil's Braves were literally swamped by the force of the Eskymos' attack Tuesday night. All of the starting five in the Escanaba lineup contributed to the scoring spurge with at least two field goals. The free throw tossing was particularly good for both teams, with Schness leading the way with 12 conversions. The Gladstone center got two out of four in the first half. He dropped in two more at the start of the second half before missing the third and then proceeded to drop in seven straight from the foul line. Lundmark scored one of two. Haglund two out of two and Engstrom one for one. Olisse, a reserve, scored one and missed one.

The Eskymos, too, made a better than average showing from the foul line. Ross scored two and missed two. Ohman scored four without a miss and Scott and Dufour each scored two without a miss. Schils, Peterson and MacRae, reserves, each missed one. In all there were 37 free throws by players of both teams, with 27 conversions, an average of 73 per cent, which is good shooting in any league. The Eskymos hit 10 out of 15 for .667 and the Braves hit 17 out of 22 for .773. Coaches rarely complain about this kind of free throw proficiency.

If the district tournament was scheduled for Escanaba instead of Iron Mountain, I would pick the Eskymos as most likely to win the district title, despite the Mountaineers' recent 32-29 victory over the Eskymos at Escanaba. Playing at Iron Mountain in the square-like gymnasium in that city, however, is something else again and the Eskymos will have to reach a new high in performance to knock down the Mountaineers in their own backyard. Then, of course, there still are teams like Menominee, Kingsford and Manistique to worry about—and each can be quite a worry, too.

Current favorite for the upper peninsula Class B championship, however, is neither Iron Mountain nor Escanaba but Negaunee, the team the Eskymos nudged out of the way to win its first peninsula title last March. The Miners are still unbeaten and have played a relatively tough schedule. If they can get by Marquette this week, Coach Wassberg's team probably will be unbeaten when it enters the tournament next month. If they are still unbeaten, my guess is that they will NOT get by their own district tournament. Wishful thinking? Perhaps.

BIG TEN READY TO PICK BOSS

Griffith Successor May Be Named At Chicago Meeting Today

BY JIMMY JORDAN

Chicago, Feb. 14 (P)—Athletic directors of the Western Conference hoped tonight they would be able to pave the way for election of an athletic commissioner to succeed the late John L. Griffith at a meeting here tomorrow.

The directors have held two meetings already in an effort to reach an agreement on changes in the conference athletic code, changes that involve broadening powers of the commissioner's office and also increasing the salary.

Until these changes have been written into the code, selection of a commissioner is almost impossible. In fact, according to Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Northwestern's athletic director and a member of a three-man board administering the office of commissioner since Griffith's death Dec. 7, there has been no qualified candidate for the position.

"No person qualified for the job would seek it until he knew just what his powers would be," Wilson said.

Several persons, including Wilson, have been named as possible candidates for the job once the way is cleared for an election. Among them are H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan football coach; Wilfred Smith, Western Conference expert of the Chicago Tribune; and Navy Lt. Ed Moore, former Waterloo, Iowa, Courier sports editor and Iowa Conference commissioner.

Washington, Feb. 14. (P)—Vice President Truman today personally commended the National Bowling Council for cancelling tournaments in order to relieve the burden of transportation.

Appearing at the council's meeting here, the vice president praised its action as setting a fine example in sports and said to "keep it up the good work."

Bowling officials estimated that approximately 3,500,000 passenger miles will be saved by its decision to cancel more than 100 tournaments.

Truman also lauded the Bowlers' Victory Legion, which has raised more than $128,000 since October to purchase recreational equipment for men overseas, particularly in the Aleutian Islands.

Major Leagues Book 154 - Game Schedule

New York, Feb. 14. (P)—Major league schedules calling for 154 games and the routine alignment of teams are in the hands of the printers it was learned today with only minor changes from the 1944 playing charts.

The three-trip plan adopted by the sport after a January 1943 conference between the late Commissioner K. M. Landis and Joseph B. Eastman, then director of the ODT, will be continued.

Delay of some western club owners in selecting their night game dates held up the National until today and the American calendar may be further altered to take care of an increase in owl ball activity.

Detroit U. Easy For State, 53-29

East Lansing, Feb. 14. (P)—Michigan State's basketball team scored an easy 53 to 29 triumph over University of Detroit tonight. The win boosted State over the .500 mark, with eight victories and seven defeats.

Detroit has a season record of eight wins and nine losses. Detroit got away to an early 7-6 lead, but Michigan came bouncing back to lead 25-14 at half time. Sam Fortino and Bill Rapchak, with 19 and 15 points, paced the winners, while Vignette had eight for Detroit.

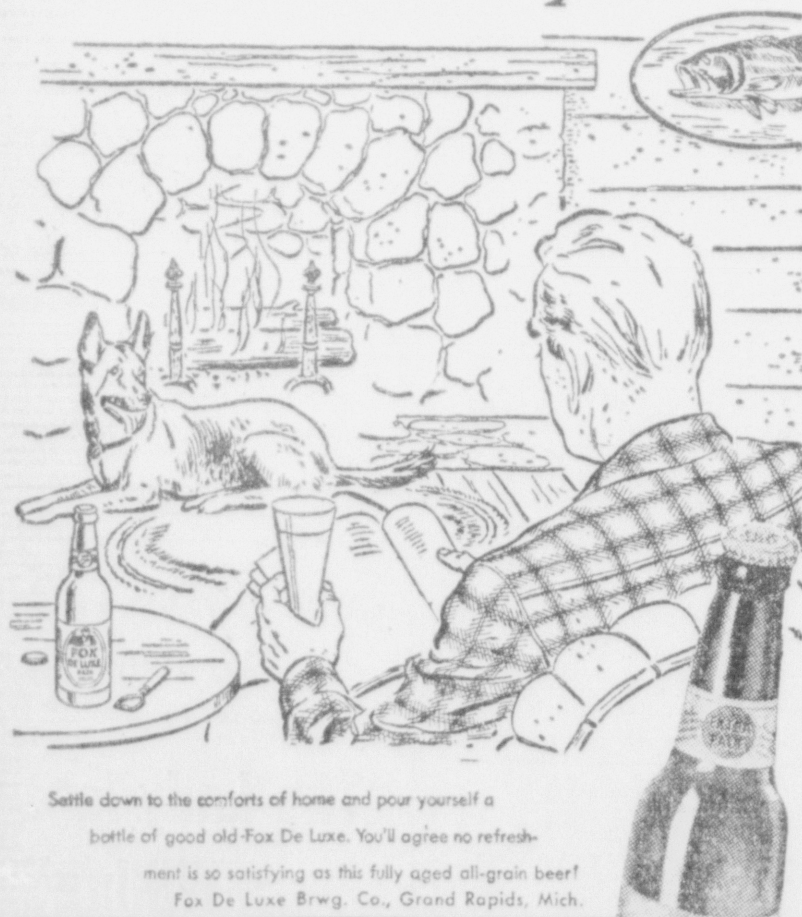

It was the sixth straight win for the State team and Detroit's fourth consecutive defeat.

JANUARY BANK DEBITS MOUNT

Seven Per Cent Rise In Business Activity Indicated Here

The January, 1945, volume of bank debits in Escanaba was seven per cent above the first month of last year.

This bank debit figure represents the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods, services, debts, etc. For a locality, bank debits are considered a good indicator of the volume of business transacted, for they reflect the amount spent by farmers, business, and government in payrolls and for materials as well as the amount spent by consumers in the general retail trade channels.

In the Upper Peninsula of Michigan the volume of bank debits was slightly above that of January, 1944.

Bank debits for the entire Ninth Federal Reserve district for the month of January was slightly below the same 1944 period.

Coast Guard Ready For Flood Relief

The United States Coast Guard has placed units in the Great Lakes area in a condition of readiness for flood relief operations.

Operations along the Ohio River fall under the jurisdiction of the St. Louis Coast Guard district, the Lakes personnel of the Coast Guard will participate only if called upon.

In view of the possibility of a quick thaw, which weather bureau officials state would cause a flood of major proportions in the Ohio River Valley, personnel, boats, boat trailers, trucks, and equipment from the Cleveland district are prepared to assist in operations if required.

Under an operating plan drafted last month, all bases, life-boat stations and other units along the Great Lakes were ordered to prepare for flood assistance.

Kenneth Scott Is New Scoutmaster, Rapid River Unit

Kenneth Scott is the new Scoutmaster of Troop 465 of Rapid River, having taken over the troop a short time ago. Mr. Scott comes into the Scouting world with very little experience, save that interest in boys and the ideals of the Scouting movement. He fits into Scouting well, being a lover of the outdoors and enjoys the associations of the Scouts of the troop. Mr. Scott has lived in Rapid River for some time and is a faithful member of the local Catholic church. There are fifteen Scouts under his charge and all are doing a good job in Scouting. Mr. Scott's reaction to the question why he came into Scouting was answered: "I like the out of doors, I like boys and I felt that Scouting had a place for me in some way that I might help the Scouting movement." Kenneth has three children of which one is a Scout.

A FARMERS PROTEST

Feb. 14, 1945

Dear Editor:
Escanaba Press,
Escanaba, Mich.

I believe it is high time that some dirt farmer ask for space to register PROTEST and resentment to the issue of Drafting farm lads under 26 years of age.

First here you have the wording of the Tyding's Amendment passed in the 77th Congress, Second session—H.R. 7528: To Amend the Selective Service Act of 1940 by providing for the extension of liability.

"(K) Every registrant found by a Selective service local board, subject to appeal in accordance with section 10 (A) (2), to be necessary to and regularly engaged in an Agricultural occupation or endeavor essential to the war effort, shall be deferred from training and service in the land and naval forces so long as he remains so engaged and until such time as a satisfactory replacement can be made. Provided, This cover if any farmer leaves farming he can be reclassified and taken into military service.

This is the law of the land, an act passed by our congress and is still in effect.

There evidently is a few congressmen who want teeth put into the law that those violating this law shall be punished. I believe this is necessary, because we have in Delta county had our lads classified in 1-A before they went to Chicago, for a physical, I learn that an adjoining county left their 2-C men in their former classification; we live in one state, in one country; I have a right to ask and so have you; what does this indicate; does Delta county draft board lean toward inducing our lads into the Army, contrary to the act of congress? It is for us to find out immediately. I am not so sure and I won't trust some of them; after I was told to my face by one member, while at a hearing "I quote—That it would not bother his conscience if anything went wrong with wife, because of their persistence to force an issue I was protesting against, an issue I was protected under in the Selective service act; When men will be hard boiled enough to disregard a doctor's statement and common sense reasoning, I think we farmers had better wake up before it is too late. Agriculture may suffer a great hardship or we will have to let our fighting men down, if an act of Congress will be thrown out of the window. We can't farm efficiently with only, cripples, old men and women and children.

I wonder if the need for men is so great that the farms are to be stripped of our young lads, we must depend upon the young lads for mechanical operations which do the heavy work quickly; all sorts of men put into the service, but without food and plenty of it, we surely cannot win a global war; they tell us AAA committeemen, to urge you farmers to produce to the limit in some products, yet our state chairman, comes to Escanaba, the Press reports and tells U. P. County Committees that we must produce more than ever, and nonchalantly refers to the young lads under 26 as being taken into the armed forces. Shame, I say, on a state leader who would not step out and defend agriculture. We have men though in Delta county such as E. A. Wenner, our agricultural agent, Mr. Miller our government appeal agent, and others who will go to bat for agriculture. You can get from our AAA office in Escanaba, the information of man hour days that governs your sons or hired hands eligibility; I urge that we as farmers get together in some way or other, "Petition Form" is a good method.

Unable To Supply Earning Figures For Income Taxes

A statement from Stanley T. Faulstich, manager of the Escanaba office of the Social Security Board, yesterday called attention to the fact that the board's local office is unable to furnish figures of 1944 earnings for income-tax purposes. Mr. Faulstich said that every year at this time hundreds of well-meaning people request statements of their annual earnings for use in making out income-tax returns since they know that the Social Security Board keeps records of wages paid to workers whose jobs are covered by Social Security. It is from these records that insurance benefits are calculated for insured workers when they retire or for the family of a worker if he dies. But the complete figures for 1944 will not have reached the board in time to make them available for income-tax returns.

GUN ACCIDENTS BEING STUDIED

Reasons Minors Become Involved Are Determined

The conservation department is learning why so many minors were involved in gun accidents during 1944 hunting seasons. Some reasons:

Of 18 minors (age 16 or under) cited in a preliminary report, nine were licensed legally to hunt in Michigan.

Nine either were not licensed or were licensed illegally (usually minor had claimed to be older).

Only six of the 18 minors had received any training from their fathers or guardians in the safe use of firearms.

Parents of 14 of the boys claimed that they did not know that boys under age 17 must be accompanied by adults while hunting.

Parents of four boys admitted they knew of this regulation.

The department some weeks ago assigned an investigator to interview parents or guardians of the minors involved in hunting accidents in recent months. Minors had been involved in 60 of the 132 gun accidents officially reported during small game seasons, in 12 of the 50 accidents during the deer season. There had been 17 fatalities in the small game season, 13 in the deer season.

Mrs. Louis Artibeau returned home Wednesday morning from Escanaba where she has spent the past week visiting her sister, Mrs. Leland Stratton.

Miss Sophia Buda of Ann Arbor arrived here Monday to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cleven.
